Facilitator

Julia Wright, National Director, Campaign for Learning

Julia leads on Campaign policy activities and work with employers and workplaces. Julia co-ordinates the Campaign's policy seminar and events programme and is responsible for commissioning and publishing policy reports. Julia is passionate about using creative and collaborative approaches to building learning cultures at work and engaging people in learning. She loves working with and learning from the many organisations that take part in the Campaign's Learning at Work Week every year.