

Speaker

Dr Gavan Conlon, Partner, London Economics

Dr Gavan Conlon is an expert in public policy economics. Across the education arena, he has delivered more than 200 projects including research assessing:

- The determinants of undertaking academic and vocational qualifications.
- The labour market outcomes associated with academic and vocational qualifications.
- The impact of cognitive skills on labour market outcomes.

He recently led the work commissioned by the Money Advice Service understanding the journey from childhood skills to adult financial capability using the 1970 British Cohort Study.