

Speaker

Martin Upton, Director, True Potential Centre for the Public Understanding of Finance, The Open University Business School

A Senior Lecturer in Finance at The Open University Business School (OUBS) and a Director of the True Potential Centre for the Public Understanding of Finance (PUFin). Martin has spent twenty years in the financial sector and has gained plenty of experience in designing and selling financial products to the public. As a non-executive director of the Shephed Building Society he was also involved in ensuring the appropriate application of regulations to the sale of products.