Breakfast Briefing
The Future of Work 4.0: Disruptive technologies, opportunity or threat?

Speaker

Dr Peter Bloom, Senior Lecturer in Organisational Studies and Head of the Department for People and Organisations, The Open University Business School.

Peter joined The Open University Business School in 2014 from Swansea University. He is a Senior Lecturer and Head of the Department of People and Organisations at the Open University and Co-Founder of the research group REEF (Research into Employment, Empowerment, and Futures). His research focuses on critically reimagining contemporary power, politics and economic - specifically related to themes of democracy, capitalism, and technology.

Peter’s published works books include Authoritarian Capitalism in the Age of Globalization (Edward Elgar Press), Beyond Power and Resistance: Politics at the Radical Limits (Rowman and Littlefield International, November 2016), and The Ethics of Neoliberalism: The Business of Making Capitalism Moral (Routledge, 2017). He also has the books The CEO Society: How the Cult of Corporate Leadership Transform Our World co-written Carl Rhodes (Zed Books).

He has also served as the lead academic on a range of BBC programmes including "The Bottom Line" on Radio 4, the "Can Britain Have a Payrise" aired on BBC2 and most recently the two part television documentary "The Secrets of Silicon Valley".